

IRIS Professional Development Options

IRIS develops and disseminates free online open educational resources (OERs) about evidence-based instructional and behavioral practices. Intended for use in personnel preparation and professional development, these instructional resources are designed to help current and future educators improve the learning and behavioral outcomes of all students, especially struggling learners and those with disabilities.

Open-Access Website: iris.peabody.vanderbilt.edu

IRIS offers free, easily accessible modules, case study units, course/PD activities, and an array of other online resources and tools. IRIS resources cover a wide variety of topics of interest to educators, such as:

- Universal Design for Learning
- IEPs
- Diversity
- Autism Spectrum Disorder
- Early Intervention/Early Childhood
- Behavior and Classroom Management
- Differentiated Instruction
- Learning Strategies

PD Certificates: iris.peabody.vanderbilt.edu/pd-hours/earn-pd-hours

Through December 2022, the IRIS Center will offer FREE certificates to verify module completion and effort toward PD hours. Practical, flexible, and built around trustworthy resources, our online IRIS PD Certificates are a terrific option for educators ready to take their professional development to the next level. More than 35 modules are currently available, and more are added all the time. Even better, IRIS Modules can be accessed anytime, anywhere, via any online-enabled tablet, phone, or computer.

School & District Platform: iris.peabody.vanderbilt.edu/pd-hours/school-district-platform

Educators earn PD certificates as school leaders and administrators coordinate their efforts and track teacher progress, while having access to all of the available IRIS Modules in the professional development section of our Website.
