Prohibition on the Use of AI Tools

The Council for Exceptional Children prohibits the use of artificial intelligence (AI) tools in the preparation of nominations or applications for any of our awards and related programs. (Those included here: <https://exceptionalchildren.org/award-programs>)

Our awards and related programs help to elevate and promote the work of education professionals who work with individuals with disabilities. To ensure the integrity and authenticity of nominations/applications, nominators/applicants may be required to sign an affirmation stating that they have not used any AI tools and that they are solely responsible for the content.

By submitting a nomination, or applying for a related program, you agree to comply with this prohibition and to submit only your own original work. If you have any questions, please contact the staff liaison provided for each award/program.
