Who We Are

LEARN Academy has developed an array of evidence-based educational and intervention resources that meet the unique needs of the whole student, including proprietary programs, administrative and professional development programs, and a deep bench of multi-disciplinary experts. We're comprehensive in our approach by providing resources for all developmental domains and working closely with all those who have the greatest influence on a student's progress, beginning with the student themselves.

Since 2007, we have partnered with schools and school districts from Los Angeles to New York and Detroit to Miami. In addition to helping their students achieve success both in and out of the classroom, we've enhanced the capabilities of their teachers, special educators, and administrators.

Why Work With Us?

We are proven to be a comprehensive resource for schools and students. These are just a few reasons LEARN Academy can be the right fit for your school or district:

- Our interventions work in various stages of education.
- We provide behavioral support for students who need it.
- Our expertise extends to school funding and organizational requirements.
- We empower educators by providing expert guidance and mentorship.
- LEARN Academy involves families in the learning process.

Our Culture and Values

The foundation of our culture and values extends to every child, parent, educator, and employee we engage.

Belonging

Cultivating a welcoming and inclusive culture for all people, particularly those with cognitive and behavioral differences who are often excluded in society.

Uniqueness

Recognizing the unique needs and potential of each child and student in our care and making them the foremost priority in our work each day.

Community

Collaborating locally with those who have the greatest influence on a child's progress, including parents, teachers, administrators, and the child themselves.

Continual Learning

Enhancing special learning through proprietary research, data analysis, and employee professional development investments.

Accountability

Holding ourselves to higher standards of performance for the benefit of each child, student, and employee — without excuse.

“LEARN is my go-to for everything... We use LEARN because they're always well trained. And they know what they're doing.”

- Scott Acton, Buckeye

“I wholeheartedly recommend LEARN Academy for students needing academic support or enrichment. They make a positive impact on student progress, and we look forward to a continued collaboration for years to come.”

- Director Operations, Blair Christian Academy

We're eager to assist you in your mission to achieve success for every student.

At LEARN Academy, we are dedicated to supporting schools and school districts in providing the best education for every student.
