

HYBRID EDS IN SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY

Drexel University's hybrid EdS in School Psychology is a pediatric-focused program that gives you the tools to make a real difference in the lives of children and young adults. The program utilizes a multicultural informed framework to teach you the roles and responsibilities of a school psychologist in a variety of community settings, including educational agencies, school districts, clinical and hospital settings, and behavioral health organizations, to ensure student success in and out of the classroom.

PROGRAM FEATURES

- Flexible hybrid model offering on-campus and online courses
- Diverse coursework in early childhood development, applied behavioral analysis, legal and ethical policy and law, and teaching English language learners taught by experts in the field
- Faculty are published experts in the fields of School Psychology, Applied Behavior Analysis, and Early Childhood Development
- Opportunity to become dual certified in applied behavior analysis and school psychology

PROGRAM AT A GLANCE

Quarter Credits: 90

Time to Completion: 3 Years

- 2 years of coursework
- 1 year of internship

ADMISSIONS REQUIREMENTS

Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution

- GPA of 3.0 or above

Previous work with children preferred

Tuition savings available for employees or members of partner organizations, military, alumni and their immediate family members

No application fee, deferred billing options available

Outstanding support services: 24/7 tech support, online access to award-winning W.W. Hagerty Library, Writing Center, and more

LEARN MORE

ONLINE.DREXEL.EDU/EDS

Questions? Contact:

800-2-DREXEL | enroll@drexel.edu